CIRCULAR SAWS,
AND MANDRELS FOR CIRCULAR SAWS;
For sale by H. W. CORBETT.

The Points of the Davis Trial—Why Davis has not been Tried.

From the New York Tribune Sept 26

Johnson repeatedly declared in his recent tour, that he had no power over the trial of Jefferson Davis and vaguely intimated that the delay was the fault of the Chief Justice of the United States. That this accusation was utterly without foundation we propose to show.

First—The Chief Justice has no more to do with the trial of Jefferson Davis than any other Justice except that it happens that the Chief Justice was allotted or assigned to the circuit in which Virginia is to accommodate Judge Swayne, who desired to be allotted the circuit in which Ohio is.

Second—The Chief Justice, when he holds a Court tries what cases he happens to find on the docket of they are ready for trial. It makes no difference to him who the parties are; his duty is to administer the law.

Third—The Chief Justice has never inquired and probably never will inquire, what cases are to come before him except in the regular course and way. He neither seeks nor shuns the responsibility of trying Jefferson Davis, or any other man.

Fourth—The Chief Justice has held three terms of the Circuit Court for the District of Maryland since his appointment, nearly two years ago. There were indictments for treason pending in the first term, and, except in some cases where the accused individually have been pardoned, they are pending yet. The Government has not thought proper to proceed to trial in any of these cases. If the Government had desired a judicial exposition of the law of treason, it might have been had from the Chief Justice at either of those terms, in April and November, 1865, or in April, 1866.

Fifth—Early last spring, Bradley T. Johnson—a double traitor, if treason consists in levying war against his own State as well as against the United States—was arrested in Maryland for treason, and was held to bail by the District Judge. General Grant requested to have him discharged without bail on the ground that he was not liable to arrest or trial, because he had been paroled at the time of the surrender of Lee or Johnson, and the President thereupon ordered the discharge through the Attorney General, and, on motion of the District Attorney under direction of the Attorney General the District Judge directed the discharge. Upon the propriety of this interference by the Executive with the course of regular judicial proceedings, it is unnecessary to express an opinion, though it affords abundant ground for the reflection of thoughtful men. It prevented the expression of a judicial opinion as to the effect of military paroles upon liabilities to punishment for treason and other crimes.

Sixth—The Chief Justice held no Court in Virginia in 1865 because the writ of habeas corpus was suspended and martial law enforced within its territory, in his judgment all Courts in a region under martial law must be quasi military Courts and it was neither right nor proper that the Chief Justice or any Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States—the highest tribunal of the nation, and head of one of the co-ordinate departments of the Government—should hold a Court subject to the control and supervision of the Executive Department, exercising the military power. In this judgment all lawyers of respectability, of whatever political opinions, will concur.

Seventh—Soon after the adjournment of the Supreme Court in April last the President issued a proclamation, the effect of which seemed to the Chief Justice to be the abrogation of martial law and military government and the restoration of the writ of habeas corpus in all the States except Texas, and we understand he determined there upon to hold a Circuit Court at the ensuing May term in Virginia, but various Executive orders, inconsistent with the conclusion that military government had ceased, soon followed the proclamation and led to an apprehension that the construction put upon it was not intended by the President. The Chief Justice, it is therefore to be presumed, reconsidered his purpose to hold a Circuit Court.

Eighth—Desirous, however, to omit no duty, the Chief Justice, it is reported, called on the President in April or May last, and requested him to issue a proclamation (of which the Chief Justice submitted a draft) declaring, in unequivocal terms, that martial law was abrogated and the writ of habeas corpus restored in all cases of which the Courts of the United States had jurisdiction, and in respect to all process issuing from such courts. This was not done.

Ninth—Subsequently, however, another proclamation was issued, affirming the restoration of peace throughout the whole country, which has as yet, been followed by no order asserting the continuance of military government. Under the proclamation, therefore, it seems fair to conclude that martial law and military government are permanently abrogated and the writ of habeas corpus fully restored, and this conclusion warrants the holding of Courts by the Chief Justice and Associate Justices at the times they direct.

Tenth—There is no Act of Congress, however, which authorizes the holding of any Circuit Court in Virginia until the November term—beginning the fourth Monday in November—unless the Chief Justice shall order a special term, as he is authorized to do by an Act of the last session. The Chief Justice would no doubt, order a special term if the District Attorney and the Attorney General should represent to him that such a proceeding is needed for the administration of public justice.

Eleventh—An Act of the last session of Congress changes all the Circuits (except the first and second which includes the Districts in New England and New York,) and reduces the number from ten to nine, but it neither makes nor authorizes any allotment of the Chief Justice or Associate Justices to these new Circuits, and it seemed doubtful whether the old allotment gives any jurisdiction to hold Courts in the Districts which happen to remain in the same Circuits numerically as at the time of that allotment, while it is quite certain that neither the Chief Justice nor any Associate Justice can exercise jurisdiction in any Circuit except by allotment or assignment under any Act of Congress. It is a matter of extreme doubt therefore, whether the Chief Justice can, after all hold any Court in Virginia until after some further legislation by making or authorizing allotments to the new circuits.

Twelfth—The absence of the Chief Justice or a Justice of the Supreme Court from any circuit does not however prevent the holding of Circuit Courts, for the law provides expressly that, in the absence of a Justice of the Supreme Court, a Circuit Court may be held by the District Judge. Circuit Courts have, accordingly, been held in all the rebel States by the District Judges ever since the establishment of the authority of the United States and the appointment of such Judges. Those Courts during the military government were held, of course subject to military control and supervision, to which, under the circumstances, District Judges might, perhaps, more properly submit than the Justices of the Supreme Court. Of course any trial which might have taken place the Chief Justice or an Associate Justice being present, might have taken place with equal jurisdiction and equal effect the Chief Justice or an Associate Justice being absent.

THE RIGHT TO PUNISH TREASON.—J B Baldwin a prominent politician and ex Confederate of Virginia, replies to the question whether Jefferson Davis can be convicted of treason in a Virginia Court.

In Virginia, 933 out of every 1 000 at least were in the same boat with Jefferson Davis. I do not exaggerate when I say 999 out of every 1 000. And of course no would find it difficult to get any confederate of his—those who were with him and fighting for him and hurrahing for him all the time—to desire to convict him. They would not do it if they could help it. But that you can find enough in the twelve men in Virginia or any other Southern State to respond to a question of fact I am as well satisfied as I am of anything. Take my own case. I never believed in the right of secession—I do not believe in it now. I always looked upon the whole thing as an absurdity and a humbug. I always believed and believe now that as a question of law, right and power the Government had a right to hang Jeff. Davis and many more. The question of power and the question of policy are different questions. If I were to sit as a juror on Jeff. Davis case or any one of them's, I would not need any instructions from a judge to make me say that he ought to be hanged—not a bit. These are my views of the law and of the facts. There are a great many people in Virginia of the same way of thinking.

CALIFORNIA STATE ITEMS

The Bee says: More than two millions of sacks of wheat have gone to market and as many more are ready in the interior. The prices of all products are advancing, and ships are coming sufficient in number and capacity to take our surplus to foreign or Eastern markets. The condition of Europe and the Eastern States fully warrant the expectation that there will no falling off of prices of breadstuffs before another harvest.

From the report of the Secretary of the Sunday School Union (San Francisco) it appears that the average attendance upon the schools of the Union for the last quarter was 4 720 being 317 more than were in attendance during the preceding quarter.

The Grand Tidings, a religious paper published monthly by the San Francisco City Tract Society, has appeared. The first number presents a handsome appearance. The paper is circulated gratuitously.

The Alta says: The Supreme Court of this State has filed an interesting opinion and rendered an important decision, to the effect that possessory claims to Federal lands may be taxed and held liable for taxes. The decision has an additional interest from the fact that the Commissioner of the General Land Office decided a short time ago, that Federal homestead claims could not be taxed."

Pegleg Smith, the old trapper, familiarly known in California, died at the County Hospital a few days ago, at the advanced age of sixty nine years.

Hon C B Fowler, of Marysville, died on the 17th. He was a pioneer citizen of the burg, was Cashier of the California Stage Co. from 1854 to 1865, Mayor of Marysville from 1860 to 1866.

The Red Bluff Observer says the party who went out to bury James Townsend lately murdered near Surprise Valley by Indians, found the head feet and hands cut off the body, besides other disfigurement.

THE SACRAMENTO FEDERAL ASSESSORSHIP.—We copy the following from the Sacramento Bee:

For some time the report has been current that John Bigler had been appointed Assessor for the Fourth United States District of this State, vice J W Avery, removed. The last steamer brought the commission, and on Tuesday last Bigler received it. The commission bears date September 19th, and is signed by Andrew Johnson, President, and H McCulloch, Secretary of the Treasury. Bigler was informed through a responsible source, that Avery had been notified to turn over his office on the 28th of October. Between eleven and twelve o'clock to-day, Bigler, accompanied by Alfred Briggs, Collector of the District, called up on Avery. Briggs introduced Bigler to Avery as the incoming Assessor of the District. Bigler presented his commission and the oath of office attested by Julius Wetzler, Notary Public. After reading the papers, Avery said, "Are there no other papers?" Bigler replied, "No, have you not received official notice to that effect in this office over to-morrow, 20th October, 1866?" Another Lesson from John Bull, the Humanitarian

Our British brethren, if we may call by this endearing name our Canadian neighbors, who have bored our enemies and gave them leave to prey upon us during our civil war—are about to give the world a fresh lesson on the mode of dealing with a public enemy after he is disarmed and in the power of his captor In a word the people who have been lecturing us on forgiveness of enemies, are setting to work in good earnest to put their principles into practice by hanging some dozens, and it may be some hundreds of men who are charged with treason It is evident that they are unalterably resolved to affix to a gibbet every Fenian who has fallen into their hands Our Government may protest and advise leniency and forgiveness, but this is not the way Johnny Bull deals with his enemies He was never yet known to relax his stern purpose of putting to death everybody he could catch who had offended in this manner against him So, spite of every protest, the Fenians prisoners will undoubtedly suffer the utmost penalty that the vengeance of our late humane advisers can inflict If the "Queen's Own" could not cope with the boys who carried the green, the Queen's Court, now that they are disarmed, can do it. The British have always been able to take care of a defeated and captured enemy. The lex talionis is in all cases with them the supreme rule. They never get lost in the fog of constitutional dispute and lose sight of their main object,—the death of the offender. Though they have theories about humanity and mercy, which they are never backward to impress on others, their practice is of a very different sort John Bull is all tenderness and forgiveness in precept, in practice he is something less cruel, but quite as inexorable as a half civilized Tartar.

These Fenian trials are causing great commotion in Democratic circles. Why? Because important elections are to be held within a week, and as the course of the President in suppressing the Fenian invasion greatly damaged him and the Democratic party, it is feared that the execution of these Fenian prisoners by the Canadians will estrange from the Administration the remainder of the vote of that powerful organization. Hence the flutter in New York city—the stronghold of the Fenians and the Democracy. Hence Mayor Hoffman's action in the matter. That hypocritical Copperhead wants to be elected Governor of New York. This he knows will be an impossibility, unless he can obtain the Fenian vote. Accordingly he convenes his common council and asks the President to interfere But Johnson has interfered once already, and the Fenians remember it. There never was a more shameless and hypocritical piece of business than this last effort of Seward and Hoffman to secure by artifice and coinery the votes of a large class of people The Democratic party has not now nor ever had the least sympathy with the Irish only in so far as it could use them for the promotion of its own selfish ends. That party for the last forty years has been the champion of oppression and the enemy of the rights of man; and it is absurd to suppose that it ever had the slightest feeling of genuine friendship for the oppressed anywhere It has courted the Irish just as it would have done the negroes had they possessed votes that could have been secured thereby. No party can be trusted which is not in favor of liberty and equal rights for all men.

The New York World says that Mr. George B. McClellan (some people will probably have an indistinct recollection of having heard this name mentioned before) has written a letter endorsing Johnson. This is timely support, as it will suggest to Johnson the propriety of calling his overwhelming defeat a great schisment of "strategy" Johnson is entitled to McClellan's support. In his Nashville speech in 1864, the now President said

"There are only two parties, patriots and traitors. Jeff. Davis leads the traitors' party, and McClellan is their candidate."

Why shouldn't the hero of strategy support A Johnson? In "swinging around the circle" the latter has arrived at the very point where he said the former stood in 1864. As they now stand on common ground, McClellan can cheerfully support him.

The Boise Statesman has the following:

Speaking of stealing, reminds us of the fact that an editor to the West of us, copied and headed as his own, an entire editorial article from our paper without changing a word. He's a Copperhead too, and the same fellow who commences a leader thus The S F. Call says" or "An exchange says," and then copies entire.

The editor to whom the Statesman alludes is "to the east of us," and we notice that his articles of this week begin with the same old remark "The Call says," etc. The leader is devoted to the work of showing that the Radicals, though carrying everything before them in the East, did not gain a victory, and that the result is a conservative triumph.

The Statesman in its issue of last week exhibited signs of an intention to commence turning summersaults backwards with a view of getting out of the den of snakes in which it made its bed a couple of months ago. The "pa" of the youth who writes those screaming leaders which make the Statesman so valuable, owns the paper. He also holds a Federal office, and out of gratitude ought to support the policy of the donor thereof We do hope for the credit of human nature that he will not abandon his benefactor in his day of calamity. As all events let's have a few more "conservative" rhapsodies before the entertainment closes.

THE ELECTIONS —In 1864, Lincoln's majority in Pennsylvania on the home vote was 5,762, on army vote, 14,363; total, 20,075. Geary's majority is 17,125—a loss of less than three thousand, which, considering the tremendous efforts the coalition made to carry the State, is exceedingly small Lincoln's majority in Indiana in 1864, was 20,005 The Union majority now is 14,428. These comparatively small losses show the extent of the aid which was rendered the Copperheads by the Johnson movement. We have not received the correct figures from Ohio and Iowa.

The State of Maine has a free white population of 627,645, and North Carolina has 630,000 The former sends five representatives to Congress and the latter seven. The two extra are for "niggers." Thus each white man in North Carolina has half a vote more than the Maine white man. Because he cannot retain this unequal advantage for his rebel friends, A Johnson is much vexed, and his satellites are so exasperated that they talk of fight. If this is a "white man's Government" we don't want representation based on "niggers"

The New York Tribune finds the following in Henry Ward Beecher's Life Thoughts, which is worthy of profound study "A conservative young man has wound up his life before it was unreeled. We expect old men to be conservative but when a nation's young men are so, its funeral bell is already rung" Beecher's age is now a matter of unusual interest

CONNECTICUT.—The Tribune of Oct. 2d says the Republican Unionists in Connecticut have carried almost every town where they seriously tried, including quite a number that were against them last spring and that there is scarcely a township which does not show a decided Republican gain in the popular vote.

From private advices from Guaymas, we learn that peace and quiet reigns in the State of Sonora. Pesqueira the Indian chief, who had made his escape at the time of the French forces evacuating, Guaymas, had been taken and shot by the Liberal forces It seems that he with some twenty others, were on board an old vessel bound for Mazatlan in the Gulf of California They were overtaken by a larger vessel with Liberal troops on board who taking them prisoners, conveyed them back where they were shot The death of Pesqueira closes the war of the people of Sonora from a fuel of long standing and the restoration of peaceful relations and other matters, which have existed since the death of her father, Lerdo had so worked upon her mind that, flying to Rome, she threw herself at the feet of Pius IX., implored his protection and absolutely refused to quit the Vatican The Holy Father treated her with kindness and instead of urging the duties of Maximilian to remain with her in the Holy place, where she remained over night contrary to rule and precedent

A letter from Rome in the Gazette gives further details of the said affair In her first interview with the Sovereign Pontiff she referred to the great embarrassment in the question of the concordat with Mexico and insisted with much pertinacity on obtaining concessions which were deemed inadmissible The letter says all that was irregular and eccentric in her conduct towards the Holy Father must be attributed to mental derangement from which she has suffered so long and which frequently disturbs her reason She went at last one morning at nine o'clock to the Pope without any previous announcement, and declared to him that she was the object of atrocious persecution and that there were designs on her life, that an attempt had been made to poison her at her lodgings in the Hotel de Rome, that she did not believe herself safe and could not dine there The Holy Father received her with fraternal kindness, tranquilized and reasoned with her and ordered dinner served for her in the library in which she passed the rest of the day In the evening an endeavor was made to get her to return to her hotel She refused, constantly repeating that she was followed by enemies and that she believed herself safe nowhere except in the Vatican Her reason again wandered and being overcome by a glass of water, fainted and died The Pope then ordered an apartment prepared for her in his palace where she passed the night and the following day and was subsequently conducted to Marseilles Her medical attendants hope that care will restore her reason

The Times says this morning, it cannot be doubted that the Government of Juarez has already sought the aid of the United States in its efforts to establish its authority over the contending factions that will arise upon the ruins of the Empire Unless reports received from Washington are at fault the President has signified his willingness to enter upon such arrangements, and is disposed to send to the City of Mexico, if such step should be deemed advisable, a force of 50,000 men under General Grant or some other officer of high rank and reputation clothed with power to aid the Government of our sister Republic in the restoration of order and security As a matter of course the Government of Mexico will be expected to incur all expenses of such an enterprise. She has abundant resources for this as well as to secure us for whatever guarantees it might be wise for us to give for payment of debts justly due England and France which were made a pretext for the second invasion of her soil Payment of these debts cannot, of course, include those of the Empire which we have never acknowledged and for which France can have no valid claim on the customs to be collected at Mexican ports already pledged to foreign Powers, and which would be transferred to her

The Times' Washington correspondent says that Lewis D Campbell, Minister to Mexico has left Washington with instructions accredited to the Juarez Government The French evacuation will commence next month and be completed by the 1st of January Our Government will extend a protectorate over the Juarez Government, which in return concedes to the United States the whole of Lower California, Sonora and Chihuahua Sherman and Hancock are both named to command the American expedition, and it is rumored that Sherman has been ordered to Washington, which, if true, may indicate him as the coming man

HON. AMORY HOLBROOK.

At a meeting of the members of the Bar of the State of Oregon, in attendance upon the Supreme Court held at Salem upon the 27th day of September, 1866, William Strong was chosen chairman and Richard Williams Secretary.

It was announced that the meeting was called to pay a suitable tribute of respect to the memory of our late brother, Hon AMORY HOLBROOK, deceased, whereupon the following resolutions were unanimously adopted

Resolved, That we have learned with deep regret of the death of the Hon AMORY HOLBROOK late a member of the Bar of the Supreme Court of this State That we sorrow because in his death we have lost a friend, the profession one of its ornaments and ablest members, and the State an influential and public spirited citizen That we tender to the widow and family our sincere condolence and sympathy under this afflicting dispensation of Divine Providence which has taken from them the husband and father

Resolved That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the widow and family of the deceased and another to the Supreme Court, now sitting, with a request that the same be entered upon the journals of the Court

L F Grover was requested by the meeting to present the resolutions and proceedings to the Supreme Court

On presenting the same Mr Grover made the following appropriate remarks, which with the resolutions were ordered spread upon the journals of the Court.

Mr Grover said "Our departed brother of the profession was I believe, a native of Massachusetts. He was a graduate of Bowdoin College, Maine; of the Class of 1832, in which he was marked for brilliant scholarship He studied law in Boston under the instruction of that eminent lawyer, Rufus Choate

Having been appointed District Attorney of the United States for the Territory of Oregon he came to this country in that capacity in 1850, since which period he has been distinguished among us as a lawyer of high mark, a public officer who has held many public trusts with fidelity and honor a citizen of enterprise, and a gentleman of the most congenial social qualities.

"It is no higher praise than deserved to say, that, in the death of AMORY HOLBROOK Oregon has lost one of its best minds and the Bar one of its most brilliant ornaments"

WORK DISCONTINUED.—Through the kindness of Mr. J. C. Paige who left Ruby City on the morning of the 21st inst., we are informed that cold weather has already set in, and that many of the mills have already discontinued work. The ground is already covered with snow, and freezing weather has set in. The New York & Owyhee Mining Company will soon shut down for the winter. The Cosmos Company intend running their mill through their Silver Cord ledge. A large amount of ...ore upon their ledge will be done during the winter. The country is ...pening with prosperous condition than ever before. The ...s more prosperous conditions are confident that when spring opens a new ...prospectors will be going to business there, as capitalists are ...expecting their fifth by their works. Many Washoe men ...have visited Owyhee during the fall and come down with ...their dust in exchange for ledges. The endorsement of ...their dust in exchange for ledges. The endorsement of ...Owyhee by men from Washoe and men who have the ...necessary capital to work and develop ledges, speaks to ...clear and decisive tones of the worth and wealth of the ...country. These men are no mere tyros in quartz mining. ...They well know the worth of a ledge and the means nec...essary to the acquirement of its latent wealth. Addi...tional capital will come in from the East, and we confi...dently hope that the coming season will witness the ...full development of the great quartz interests, and prove ...Owyhee to be the richest silver bearing district upon the ...Pacific slope.

LARCENY'S COURT.—In Recorder's Court yesterday, ...Chas. Cooper was arraigned upon the charge of drunken, ...boisterous and disorderly conduct on Front street. The ...facts in the case went to show that Charley had taken ...to large a dose of bad whisky, and that he had conduct...ed himself in a very disorderly manner. He was fined ...$5 and costs, and in default was sent to jail for two days. ...Mr. J. G. Gilman appeared upon a charge of running ...a race within the city limits without having obtained a ...license. He was fined a mere nominal sum, and instruct...ed to take out a license in conformity with the previous ...ordinance of the Board, which was that all persons running ...horses within the city limits must take out license.

CITY DIRECTORY.—The work of compilation for the city ...and business Directory for the year 1867 will be immedi...ately commenced by Mr. S. J. McCormick and A. Bush...nell. This is the fifth year of its publication, and if the ...past is any omen will heartily support the new one will ...be in short a more complete than any of its predecessors. ...The new Directory will contain 150 pages of statistical ...matter, a Lithograph map of the city and of East ...Portland. It will be ready for distribution on or about ...the 1st of January next.

FRUIT.—We were yesterday shown by Colonel ...Ainsworth fine, strawberries of the Hovey Seedling ...variety. They were the second crop the vines had borne ...this season. They were fine and large, and fully equal ...to those grown during the proper season for strawberries. ...The Colonel seems to think that it is possible to raise ...strawberries with the proper management. We say "pitch ...in" and raise them, they are not bad to take any time, ...in season or out of season.

THE PIONEER.—The barkentine Jane A. Falkinburg, Wm. Emswell Master, will leave her wharf this morning and drop down the river to St. Helens, where she will take a load of piles from there she will go to Cathlamet for the balance of her cargo of piles. The Falkinburg will take some four to Honolulu which will be her next port in Asia. She will not probably make up her cargo and clear from Astoria for two weeks to come.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.—Hon. E. Norman of Douglas county will deliver a lecture on Temperance this evening at the Methodist Church, at 7 o'clock. The proceedings will be under the auspices of the society of Good Templars. All are cordially invited, and it is hoped the lecture will have a large attendance.

STEAMER.—The steamer Senator brought last night to the Ferry, 23 trunks, 9 boxes mdse, 3 coops fowls, and 22 horses. The horses were for the cavalry company, and were transferred to the Fireside Troops which ...left on the arrival of the Senator, that ship might take the horses to Vancouver on her evening trip.

DEATH.—It was currently reported yesterday that Mr. ... Wolf had died in San Francisco. The report was widely circulated and obtained credence. The report ...was a foundation, as we were shown last night a ...note from him informing his friends here that he is still in the land of the living.

SAN JUAN.—We received from Barrett last night ...the issue of the New York Herald, the Nation, the ...Round Table and Godey's Lady's Book for November. ...Barrett has a full supply of all the latest papers and mag...azines.

WRECK.—The schooner Crosby sailed yesterday morning for Victoria. She was loaded with fruit and flour. ...She will bring back to this city a cargo of Nanaimo coal ...for the Gas Works.

A GOOD BAR.—Mr. Richardson will hold forth a ...bar to-night, enhanced with and appreciativeaudience" ...from 10 to 12 o'clock. Go and hear him.

MONEY.—The messenger of Wells, Fargo & Co. ...left last evening from the north $10,000 in treasure.

FOR HUNT.—The Wilson G. Hunt brought last evening ...a load. Still the miners come.

BALL TICKETS.—The sum contributed for the balloon ...fund on the 29th inst. was $60.

TREASURE.—The steamer Orizimba brought to Wells, Fargo & Co., $20,000 treasure.

ATHENIAN FESTIVAL.—Members are requested to meet at their Hall at 7 o'clock this evening.

INCREASE OF OUR POPULATION.—A valuable statistical table, exhibiting the rate of increase in the population of the different States in the Union since the census of 1860, is being prepared. The census of 1865 has been received by the Department from seven States, and the increase of population, even during the war, in which the mortality was unusually large, is as follows:

Minnesota, 40 per cent.; Illinois, 20 per cent.; Wisconsin, 14 per cent.; Iowa, 12 per cent.; Michigan, 7 @ 10 per cent.; Rhode Island, 4 per cent.; while, 3 per cent. Taking the general average of this increase, 13½ per cent. is a fair estimation of the ratio and increase in the other States. The Census Bureau estimates that the population of the United States and Territories has increased from 31,433,243—the number found by the census of 1860—to 35,500,000.

SOUTHERN POLITICIANS ALARMED.—A New York paper of Oct. 23, states that Southern politicians are in a great flutter at the prospect of the triumph of the Union party in the North. We quote the following:

The Herald's New Orleans special says on Saturday Bacon of the Crescent newspaper received a ...from President Johnson and left to-day for the White House. ...of Southerners, just from the North, report that popular sentiment is entirely with ...and this creates much alarm among the politicians. The Picayune has changed its ...and it is understood it will in future advocate the immediate adoption of the constitutional ... The Bee also gives the amendment ... support.

...ance of those brutal scenes called a "nation...Algerine fight" is soon to come off at the East. ...Coburn and McCools are the worthies who are going to bruise each other. The money is $10,000.

THE FATAL PLATFORMS.—It is a notable and ...curious fact, says the New York Tribune, that during the late Presidential tour, it was difficult to get up a platform upon which the people could stand, except at the risk of their lives.

FROM WALLA WALLA.

We take the following from the Walla Walla Statesman, of the 26th:

FOR BLACKFOOT.

Notwithstanding the lateness of the season and the somewhat discouraging reports brought down by miners, several pack trains are now loading at points on the river for Blackfoot. The rates of freight rule high. Ballard's train started last week from Wallula, with a cargo of general merchandise, at thirty-eight cents freight.

EMIGRANTS RETURN.

We learn from parties just from the mud that there are two emigrant wagons with three yoke of oxen now on the Coeur d'Alene mountains on their way to Walla Walla.

RETURNING FROM BLACKFOOT.

Returning parties of miners continue to arrive in town every day from Blackfoot. They repeat the old story that Blackfoot has been a "big bilk" to nine-tenths of the people who have gone from this side. We have conversed with a number of them this week who state that wages in the diggings were down to fifty dollars per month when they left, and it seemed probable then that twenty-five dollars would soon become the ruling figure.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

It is said, the tolls on Ruckel & Thomas's road across the Blue mountains have averaged from one to two thousand dollars per month.

Heavy showers of rain fell here on Wednesday and Thursday nights. Quite enough to moisten the ground, and perhaps too much for the farmers who have not yet thrashed their grain.

The fall races over the Walla Walla course commenced on Wednesday. The horses entered for that day were two year old colts—single dash of one mile, for a purse of $85; won by the Swozen filly. The second day's race was between Billy Bumgardner and the Bumgardner filly, both three year olds—single dash of a mile; purse $100; won by Billy. Time, 1:57. The race to-day was single dash of a mile; free for all second-rate horses, for a purse of $100. We have not learned the result. The great race is to come off to-morrow and next day. To-morrow's race will be mile heats, best three in five; free for all horses; purse $150. The next and last day will be a sweepstake race; mile heats, best three in five; free for all trotting and pacing horses; to go as they please. Purse, $25 and $15 entrance to go with the purse. Also, a sweepstake, distance one-fourth of a mile; free for all horses; catch weights. Purse $25 and $25 entrance, to go with the purse.

IMPEACHMENT.—Wilkes' Spirit of the Times has the following under the caption of "Indictment of Andrew Johnson:"

It is not true, as he has declared that Congress has practically prohibited the restoration of the Southern States; and for stating this untruth he deserves to be solemnly arraigned. It is not true that the people of this land have sunk so low, that for a few millions of dollars, and the patronage appertaining to a single bill, he could corrupt them to become his slaves, though he twice has said it; and for thus having degraded the country in the eyes of foreign powers, he deserves to be impeached!

He deserves also to be impeached for the attempt to extend those military attributes of the Executive, which attached only in a state of war, and which inured to him solely during the legislative interregnum, over the Congress when it was in session.

He further deserves to be impeached for having accused Congress of conceding and inciting the massacre at New Orleans; for denouncing that co-ordinate branch of the Government as a factious body hanging on its verge; for inflaming the people against the authority of laws passed constitutionally by a two-thirds vote; for usurping the functions of the Supreme Court by declaring those laws to be unconstitutional, in advance of any case, and while all the sanctions of the Constitution bind them upon him and upon the people; for pledging himself to the citizens of St. Louis to veto all the measures of this Congress, without regard to their legality or fitness, whenever they may come before him; and, finally, for endeavoring to corrupt the people and subsidize the press, by offering the patronage which is entrusted to him by the Constitution for public purposes, as an inducement for their party votes. While lying is not comprehended by the Constitution as a possible Executive offence, the crime of bribery is, and so long as it remains among the causes for impeachment against the President his scandalous offers at Philadelphia and St. Louis should not pass without rebuke. Seduction in the way of office, are as gross as temptations in the way of cash, and when they are offered to promote apostacy, instead of being conferred as legitimate considerations for past usefulness or merit, they should receive all the ignominy of a criminal indictment. We grant that all this would be very gratifying to the country, but the scandal of a formal Presidential trial and impeachment would not be half so great, as the unspeakable disgrace of permitting, without complaint, a man like Andrew Johnson to denounce the Congress as a treasonable body, and to declare that the American people could be made to sell their liberties for a handful of patronage and a few millions of dollars. The only thing to be regretted in connection with such proposed impeachment is, that the man who could put this insult on the American people, could not be impeached out of his nativity, and utterly ignored even as an American citizen.

What Experienced Mill Men think of the Portable Steam Saw Mills built by the Oregon Iron Works!

PORTLAND, Oct. 18th, 1866.

TO THE OREGON IRON WORKS:

Gentlemen.—The Portable Steam Saw Mill which we purchased of you last spring for Fen d'Oreille Lake, has been in operation during the past season, and has more than met our expectations in its performance. With three men, we turn out from three to four thousand feet, and with five men, five thousand feet per day of ten hours; and we take pleasure in recommending them as the most SUBSTANTIAL, DESIRABLE AND PERFECT MILLS IN USE, and especially adapted to the wants of this country, on account of their compact form, ease of transportation and the facility with which they can be set up and put in operation. Although subjected to the most severe tests, no repairs have been required.

CIRCULAR

To the Officers and Soldiers Oregon Volunteers.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, SALEM, Oct. 23, 1866.

BY RECENT ACTS OF CONGRESS ALL OFFICERS of the Volunteer Service who were in Commission March 2d, 1865, and subsequently mustered out after April 9th, 1865, are entitled to three months extra pay (wages).

Enlisted men are entitled to additional bounty in certain cases, by Acts of Congress of July 28th, 1866, and the following rules and regulations, together with the form of application adopted by the War Department, are published for the guidance and benefit of all concerned:

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES, UNDER THE ACT TO EQUALIZE BOUNTIES, APPROVED JULY 28, 1866.

WAR DEPARTMENT, ASSISTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, September 16, 1866.

1. All applications shall be filed within the period of six months, from the 1st day of October, 1866, and before any payments are made, shall be classified by regiments, battalions, or other separate organizations, and no application filed after that period shall be settled until after the former shall have been paid.

2. No application shall be entertained unless accompanied by the original discharge of the soldier and the affidavit required by the fifth paragraph section of the Act, and the further affidavit that he has not received, nor is he entitled to receive from the United States, under any laws or regulations prior to the Act of July 28, 1866, more than $100 bounty for any and all military service rendered by him during the late rebellion, over and above the amount therein claimed.

3. All applications for the additional bounty authorized by this Act from surviving soldiers shall be in the form hereinafter prescribed, and the evidence of identity shall be the same as is now required, and applications from the heirs of deceased soldiers shall be in the form now required by the Treasury Department.

4. As soon as the examination of the claims of any regiment, or other independent organization, shall have been properly acted upon the Paymaster-General shall take the necessary steps for their prompt payment.

5. A register shall be kept in the Paymaster General's office, and also in the office of the Second Auditor, of all claims presented under the law, in which the claimants will be classified by regiments, etc. If the claims be allowed, the amount of bounty paid to each will be noted, and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated.

6. In the applications for bounty, as required by the third of these rules, the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant, and also that he never served otherwise than as herein stated.

7. Organizations irregularly in the service of the United States, or called out for special purposes, as State Militia, Home Guards, etc., and not included in the general bounty laws, are not included within the meaning of the Act.

8. Soldiers enlisted for "three years or during the war," who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war, shall be considered as having served out the period of their enlistment, and are entitled to bounty under this Act.

9. The minority of heirs, claimants for bounty under this Act, must be proven to have existed at the date of its passage. Parents shall receive jointly the bounty to which they may be entitled as heirs, unless the father has abandoned the support of his family, in which case it shall be paid to the mother. Non-residence in the United States shall not be a bar to the claim of heirs, who would otherwise legally inherit.

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes:

1. Those who, after serving the full period of their enlistment, were dishonorably discharged or at its expiration.

2. Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment.

3. Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service, but not occasioned by wounds received "in the line of duty," who shall not have previously served two full terms of three years respectively at the time of discharge.

4. Those discharged on account of disability existing at the time of their enlistment.

5. The heirs of those who have died since their discharge of wounds or disease not contracted in the service and in the line of duty.

6. The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who, under previous laws, have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States.

7. The surviving soldiers, as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers, when such soldiers have bartered, sold, assigned, loaned, transferred, exchanged or given away their final discharge papers, or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other Act of Congress.

8. The Act of the 28th of July, 1866, creates no right of inheritance beyond those vested by the law under which these heirs received or were entitled to receive the original bounty, and which certainly excludes brothers and sisters of heirs that were entitled to receive the original bounty, from any claim for the additional bounty provided by this Act.

Respectfully referred to the Attorney General for his opinion on the points whether the rules and regulations as within amended are in conformity with law.

EDWIN M. STANTON,
September 14, 1866. Secretary of War.

I have examined these amended regulations, and am of opinion they are in conformity with law.

HENRY STANBERY,
September 15, 1866. Attorney General.

The foregoing rules and regulations are published for the information and guidance of all concerned.

By order of the Secretary of War.

E. D. TOWNSEND,
Assistant Adjutant General.

Sweets of Woman's Life

A babe at rest on mother's breast
The young to smile or weep
Conscious of naught but mother's love—
So sweet is infant's sleep

A child at play in meadows green
Plucking the fragrant flowers
Chasing the bright winged butterflies—
So sweet are childhood's hours

A maiden fair as early dawn
Boldhant with every grace
Gladdening the eye that looks on her—
So sweet is beauty's face

A softe blushing downcast look
Murmur of startled dove,
Answering an inner tender note—
So sweet is woman's love

A white-robed virgin kneeling low
Before God's altar bows
Forever join'd two hearts and hands—
So sweet are marriage vows

A youthful mother bending o'er
Her first-born beauteous boy,
Forever here till death shall part—
So sweet a mother's joy

The matron in life's Autumn time,
With young life's clustered o'er;
Her children's children clasp her knees—
So rich in Autumn's store

Pomeroy's Soliloquy

A Kentucky correspondent sends the following to the Cincinnati Commercial, concerning Pomeroy, of the La Crosse Democrat

LEXINGTON, Ky July 19 1866

The rebel papers of Kentucky are publishing various soliloquies written by "Brick" Pomeroy, who edits a dirty sheet paper in the Northwest Here follows a soliloquy spoken by Pomeroy of himself

"Brick" Pomeroy's Soliloquy —What a liar I am! Humbug cheat, toady, knave, lick spittle and sneak! I know it, the people know it, God knows it Great God, what a snob!

I, a Northern man, yes, a Connecticut man constantly reviling Yankees, constantly reviling my parents, my kinfolk, and every body who nursed me in helpless infancy! I have lied on all sorts of occasions, in all sorts of ways, and in all sorts of type. From my own depraved mind I have pictured my opponents With the slime which exudes from my foul tongue, have I bespattered my betters I have befouled my own nest to obtain a grin from the slave-drivers

What a dirty bird I am —When my country was in peril, I reviled her defenders, and applauded her assassins Too cowardly to become an active traitor, I discouraged enlistment in the Union army I traduced our generals and maligned our soldiers I rejoiced when the great and good men of the nation died, and I blasphemed God's holy name to win respect from rebels

Did I sin at—No! A thousand times, no Every instinct of my nature answers in thunder tones, NO! They despise me, and spurn me as a "dirty bird" Every decent man, woman and child in the United States must despise me I despise myself Give me some whisky, it drowns the whisperings of conscience and deadens the stings of remorse

Am I a brick? Of course I am Everybody calls me "Brick Pomeroy" I'm a brave man! I do the dirty work which others shrink from aghast. I am the volunteer scavenger of the great Democratic party. I do its lying, its dirt eating, and its pimping. But I am braver than common bagnio pimps, for they dare not publish mine every day in the Democrat, and people laugh at it.

Oh! I'm a "brick"—I wonder what made Prentice call me a "brick" Ha! ha! A brick! How people are humbugged They take my paper

What For!—I know; they take it for its monstrosity and indecency They take it on the same principle that they go to see five-legged calves and two-headed babies They want to see how deep a Connecticut Yankee can dive into the cesspool of politics and bring up with his teeth what a decent man would not touch with a pole. They want to read my blasphemous remarks about the death of the late President of the United States They like to see me crouch and crawl between the legs of Southern men, and lick the dust from Southern feet. They like to read my articles about Northern men, because they know I write from a copy indelibly stamped upon my own black heart

Bah! what a sneak I am. A "brick," for south!

Yes, I am a brick that ought to be laid in a pavement, so that all upright beings could tread upon me, and spit in my face. I ought to be placed in a flue of a soap factory, or broken into bats to throw at mad dogs. Oh! What a detestable pimp I am! I am a libel upon mankind. I am a living reproach to the mother that bore me. I am a standing shame to the father who begot me I am a chronic disgust to the community in which I live A pimple on its nose. A louse in its head An ulcer in its ear A rotten tooth in its mouth A stye in its eye. A polypus in its nose I am its itch, its piles, its leprosy, and its fistula in ano. In short, I am "Brick" Pomeroy.

BEN BUTLER TELLS SOME SUBBORN FACTS.—In a recent speech at Gloucester, Mass., in which he reviewed "my policy" after his own unsparing fashion, Maj. Gen. Butler told the following startling truths:

"Are you ready to say that those men shall sit in Congress, make laws for you, have power to say whether your debts shall be paid or go unpaid, whether bounties shall be paid to your soldiers, pensions to your widows, or whether the flag of the United States shall be upheld? To have a portion of the country in governmental relations to the country where no loyal men can speak, and no loyal men could assemble? I have had some private documents from another portion of the Union. It was because Texas has consinded to come into the Union that this proclamation of peace was issued. Governor Throckmorton, a gentleman born in a town in this county, formerly serving upon my staff—was sent upon an inspection tour to Texas, and he made his report, and was forthwith ordered home, because he reported what he saw and in what condition he saw things Among other things, what do you think he saw in Houston, the capital of Texas? A firemen's procession bearing a Confederate flag reversed and leading a figure of a Goddess of Liberty, personated by a young girl dressed in black and white, with chains about her wrists and about her ankles The Goddess of Liberty was in chains in Texas! When the procession came to the house of a United States officer where the flag of the United States was flying, they saluted him with groans and hisses, and hurled all manner of contempt upon him, and that procession of our reconstructed brothers passed on, and for some reason—some blur over that officer's eyes—he allowed his flag to be insulted All volunteer officers of the army are discharged but I undertake to say that there were volunteer officers in the army that would have put an end to the procession—aye, more—never have allowed it to have started in the first place. He again reported that in an average of one-fifth of our territory about ten murders a day are committed since the war, that they had a list of about one thousand two hundred, and they found skeletons of some of them hanging upon trees every morning And this I had from a gentleman whose character for truth stands as good as any in this community. No United States officer can go in that portion of the country without an escort—and these men are to come back into our Government! I now declare my own feelings and belief, that if this state of feeling continues it is not peace but war, and the worst kind of war, for it is war upon unarmed men, women and children, and if no other remedy for this state of things can be found if this state of things cannot be altered, we will march once more and we to him who opposes"

The editor of an Arkansas paper says that although he now seldom gets anything for subscriptions and advertisements more current than corn, shingles and cord wood, yet it is a great improvement over the ante-war times when a man couldn't ask anybody for a just debt without at once having the matter "adjusted in a manner customary among gentlemen" by means of a bowie-knife or revolver, the creditor being almost certain of being put beyond the need of collecting debts for evermore

APPOINTMENTS.—Maj Gen William W Averill has been appointed Consul General to the British North American Provinces, to reside at Montreal vice J T Potter resigned Maj Gen Morgan L Smith, of Missouri, has been appointed Consul at Honolulu Sandwich Islands vice Caldwell recalled, and Brig Gen Wm B Duffy, of Illinois, who was Chief of Artillery on Gen Grant's staff has been appointed Consul to Glasgow, vice Bailey, recalled

A HOME THRUST.—Theodore Tilton is not a desirable opponent in an argument At the Philadelphia Convention a rebel delegate asked him "Would you marry a black woman?" No" responded Mr Tilton "I would not choose to, but looking to the questioner significantly in the eye, "if I were the father of a black woman's children, I should feel myself a great coward if I did not marry her."

A DOUBTFUL COMPLIMENT.—The compliment of a Western clergyman to his female worshippers is worth recording "Be not proud that the blessed Lord paid your sex the distinguished compliment of appearing first to a female after the resurrection, for it was only done that the glad tidings might spread the sooner."

LAWS OF OREGON,

Passed at the Regular Session of the Legislative Assembly held Septem b 1866

AN ACT to amend an Act entitled "An Act to provide a code of civil procedure" approved October 11th 1862

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon

Section 1 That section ninety three of an act entitled An Act to provide a code of civil procedure," be amended so as to read as follows Sec 93 A mistake allegation or a pleading is one essential to the claim or defence and which could not be received in the following without leaving it insufficient When the facts stated in the pleading are proved a court of law the case shall be decided as an action at law But if the facts stated either by the plaintiff or defendant show a case requiring the interposition of a court of equity the case shall proceed as a suit in equity

Sec 2 Section three hundred and ninety three of said act be amended so as to read as follows Sec 393 As soon as the pleadings are completed and if the suit be at issue on a question of fact the parties may, in the cases specified in section eight hundred and four of this code, take the depositions of witnesses to be offered in evidence on the trial

Sec 3 That section five hundred and twenty six of said act be amended so as to read as follows Sec 526 Any party to a judgment or decree other than a judgment or decree given by confession or for want of answer may appeal therefrom The party appealing is known as the appellant and the adverse party as the respondent, but the title of the action or suit is not changed in consequence of the appeal When the party who has the right to appeal wishes a statement of the case to be annexed to the record of the judgment decree or order he shall within twenty days after the entry of such judgment or order prepare such statement which shall contain the grounds of which he intends to rely on the appeal and so much of the evidence as may be necessary to explain the grounds and no more, and shall serve a copy thereof upon the adverse party The respondent may within five days thereafter prepare amendments to the statement and serve a copy on the appellant If such amendments are admitted, the statement shall be corrected accordingly and if not admitted the statement and amendments shall be presented to the judge who tried or heard the case upon notice, to be given within two days to the respondent, and a true statement shall thereupon be settled by such judge If the party shall omit to make a statement within the times above limited, he shall be deemed to have waived his right thereto, and when a statement is made and the parties shall omit within the several times above limited, the one party to propose amendments, or the other to notify of an appearance before the judge, they shall respectively be deemed, the former to have agreed to the statement as proposed and the latter to have agreed to the amendments as proposed, and no settlement or certificate thereto by the judge shall be required The several periods of time above limited may be enlarged upon good cause, shown by the judge before whom the cause was tried The statement, when settled by the judge, shall be signed by him with his certificate, that the same has been allowed and is correct When the statement is agreed upon by the parties, they or their attorneys shall sign the same with their certificate, that it has been agreed upon by them and is correct In either case when settled, or agreed upon, it must be filed with the clerk The clerk shall annex the statement, if the appeal be from a final judgment or decree to the judgment roll, if the appeal be from an order, to such order or a copy thereof

Sec 4 That section five hundred and thirty one of said act is amended so as to read as follows Sec 531 Upon the appeal being perfected, the appellant must by the second day of the next regular term of the appellate court thereafter, file with the clerk of such court the transcript of the case as provided in this section, and thereafter the appellate court has jurisdiction and not otherwise 1st The transcript is a copy certified by the clerk, of the roll or final record, or the pleadings, orders, exceptions, papers and journal entries that constitute such roll or record, together with the statement provided in section 526 if there be one A copy of the notice of appeal and any order enlarging the time to fill the transcript and a statement of the filing of the undertaking whether by the appellant or respondent, the names of the sureties therein, the amount thereof, if the same is specified, and if given by the appellant, whether the undertaking is given for an appeal only, or a stay of proceedings also 2d The clerk shall deliver the transcript so certified to the appellant, taking therefore his receipt in duplicate, one of which he shall file in his office, and deliver the other to the respondent. 3d If the transcript is not filed with the clerk of the appellate court within the time provided, the appeal is to be deemed abandoned, and the effect thereof terminates, but the court or judge thereof, may upon notice to the respondent, and such terms as may be just, by order enlarge the time for filing the same, but such order shall be made within the time allowed to file the transcript, and shall not extend it beyond the term of the appellate court next following the appeal 4th If the appeal be abandoned, as provided in the last sub-division, thereafter the judgment or decree, so far as it is for the recovery of money, may be enforced against the sureties in the undertaking for a stay of proceedings, as if they were parties to such judgment or decree

Sec 5 That section five hundred and thirty three of said act is so amended as to read as follows Section 533 Upon an appeal from a judgment the same shall only be reviewed as to questions of law appearing upon the transcript, and shall only be reversed or modified for errors substantially affecting the rights of the appellant, but upon an appeal from the judgment of county court, or justices' court, the action is tried anew upon substantially the issue tried in the court below, and upon an appeal from a decree given in any court, the suit shall be tried anew upon and in regard to all questions, both of law and fact, presented by the transcript

Sec 6 That section eight hundred and four of this said act be amended so as to read as follows Section 804 The testimony of a witness in this State may be taken by deposition in an action at law or a suit in equity, at any time after the service of the summons or the appearance of the defendant, and in a special proceeding after a question of fact has arisen therein in the following cases 1st When a witness is a party to the action or proceeding by the adverse party 2d When the witness residence is such that he is not obliged to attend in obedience to a subpœna, as provided in section 785 3d When the witness is about to leave the county and go more than twenty miles beyond the place of trial 4th When the witness otherwise liable to attend the trial, is nevertheless too infirm to attend 5th When the testimony is required by a motion, or in any other case where the oral examination of the witness is not required.

Sec 7. That section eight hundred and five of said act is amended so as to read as follows Section 805 The testimony of witnesses in suits of equity shall be taken in the same manner as in actions at law But upon an order of reference to a master or referee, which the Court is hereby empowered to make in cases proper to be so referred, the examination of witnesses shall be taken in writing and subscribed and returned into court with the award or finding of fact

Sec 8 That section eight hundred and thirteen of said act be amended so as to read as follows Section 813 Either party may take the testimony of a witness in this State by deposition in the cases allowed by this code, before the clerk of a court of record, or other person authorized to administer oaths In giving the adverse party previous notice of the time and place of examination, the name of the officer and the witness But unless the witness is an adverse party the party giving the notice shall cause to be delivered to the party served a copy of an affidavit stating either that the witness resides out of the county and more than twenty miles from the place of trial, or is about to leave the county, or that the witness is infirm, and that there is danger that his attendance cannot be procured at the trial Such notice shall be at least three days if the distance of the place of examination from the residence of the person to whom the notice is given do not exceed twenty five miles, and one day in addition for every additional twenty five miles, unless the court or judge thereof by order prescribe a shorter time When a shorter time is prescribed the order, or a certified copy thereof, shall be served with the notice

Sec 9 That section eight hundred and seventeen of said act be amended so as to read as follows Section 817 A deposition taken pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, if either of the causes mentioned in section 804 exist at the time of the trial may be used by either party upon the trial or proceeding, against any party giving or receiving the notice, subject to all legal exceptions But no objections can be made at the trial to the form of interrogatory unless the same appears by the deposition to have been made at the time of the examination or the setting of such interrogatories Section 814 except the first sentence thereof and sections 815 and 816 shall apply to depositions taken out of the State upon oral interrogatories

Sec 10 That section eight hundred and nineteen of said act is amended so as to read as follows Section 819 When a deposition has been once taken when either of the causes mentioned in section 804 exist, or if the witness be dead, or his attendance cannot be procured, it may be read in any stage of the same action, suit or proceeding or in any other action suit or proceeding between the same parties or their representatives upon the same subject matter and is thereto be deemed the evidence of the party reading it When any portion of a deposition is excluded from a case so much of the adverse examination as relates thereto is excluded 14th
